Faculty

Dr. Anita Archer serves as an educational consultant to school districts on effective instruction, classroom management, reading and writing instruction, and design of effective literacy programs. She has taught elementary and middle school students. She has been the recipient of ten Outstanding Educator awards including the 2006 Leadership Award from the University of Oregon College of Education and the Patricia C. Lindamood Award for Clinical Leadership in Excellence in Language and Literacy.

Dr. Archer has been a faculty member at San Diego State University, the University of Washington, and the University of Oregon. She is nationally known for her presentations and publications on instructional procedures and literacy instruction. She co-authored Skills for School Success, a study skills program for elementary and middle school students, Advanced Skills for School Success, REWARDS, a program to teach students advanced decoding and fluency skills, and REWARDS PLUS and REWARDS Writing with Dr. Mary Gleason. She also co-authored Phonics for Reading and has authored many other curriculum materials, chapters, books, and training materials.

Abstract

Vocabulary becomes an increasingly important predictor of academic success as students proceed through school. Vocabulary skills are directly related to reading comprehension. In this session, evidence-based procedures for increasing vocabulary through use of high quality classroom language, read-alouds, explicit vocabulary instruction, word learning strategies and wide-reading will be explored. Research-validated procedures will be demonstrated and practiced, with classroom videos illustrating the procedures.

The mission of the New Jersey Speech-Language-Hearing Association (NJSHA) is to serve audiologists, speech-language pathologists, and speech, language or hearing scientists by providing resources, information, programs, and services that meet members' needs; promoting public awareness; and advocating for professional standards, legislation, and regulation necessary to provide the highest quality of care for the individuals they serve.

The International Dyslexia Association is a non-profit Scientific and Education organization for the study and treatment of children with specific language disability (dyslexia). The Association does not endorse any specific program; it supports efforts to provide dyslexic individuals with appropriate instruction and to identify these individuals at an early age.
