CONFERENCE ABSTRACT:

This TOTALLY PRACTICAL workshop offers a multitude of easy-to-prepare ideas to use with speech students in resource or collaborative classrooms. Ideas for pre-K – grade 12 will likely spark enthusiasm for your program, while meshing students’ IEP goals, classroom demands, and language content standards.

OUTSTANDING STRATEGIES

- Collaborative teaching that integrates speech-language IEP goals with classroom task demands & language arts goals without using worksheets
- Practical strategies to help your speech-language students improve in the critical areas of syntax, semantics, morphology & phonemic awareness
- Therapy & homework ideas that are quick to prepare
- Proven ways to stimulate & monitor carryover of IEP goals
- Innovative techniques to address differentiated instruction
- Time-efficient approaches for more effectively assessing carryover of voice, fluency & articulation goals
- Specific suggestions for developing lessons that challenge & involve students of all levels & learning styles in large & small groups
- Multiple suggestions for encouraging divergent thinking
- A variety of highly effective, fun-to-use formats & activities for both regular & resource classrooms

LEARNER OUTCOMES - PARTICIPANTS WILL BE ABLE TO:

1. Develop and demonstrate skill in innovative techniques to address differentiated instruction.
2. Describe collaborative teaching that integrates speech/language IEP goals with classroom task demands and language arts goals without using worksheets.
3. Discuss creative ideas for fostering vocabulary development.
4. Develop and explain practical strategies to help speech-language students improve in the areas of syntax, semantics, and phonetic awareness.
5. Identify methods for developing lessons that challenge and involve students of all levels and learning styles in large and small groups.
