

STOP AND GO

RULES

- All the racers start at one point and one person acts as a stop light saying and modeling on the core board “STOP” or “GO”.
- Whoever gets to the finish line or tags the stop light first is the winner.
- You can also give directions to each racer individually or add more steps to the directions for the racers to move forward. For example, “Take 3 big steps, then jump 2 times.”
- More creative ideas? You can say/model other core words to direct how the racers move toward the finish line: go slow, go fast, slower, faster, take big steps, take little steps. Or you can give directions to walk like different animals, take a certain number of steps, or use other describing words to tell the racers how to move.
